A Detective's Mission:

Lurking around through the hallways and classrooms, trying to discover clues to unfold the mystery of the students within the school. Our detective squad has caught many students "red handed" while they expressed their enthusiasm and pride in our school. Our spy-cam captured the action in everything from athletics to academics. Not a clue or suspect was left undetected in the student action.

Girls That Fly !

The cheerleaders began a long hard season by attending a Cheer North Dakota camp in Forbes. The varsity football and basketball cheerleaders learned many new cheers, dances, and stunts, including the basket toss. "My first season was great, and stunting was awesome," Kayla Peldo stated.

The basketball cheerleaders adjusted to the switching of the seasons, by cheering for both boys' and girls' home games and tournaments. "Cheering for only home games was a nice new change," said senior Amy Hardy.

The cheerleaders are still coached by Holli Kronberg. "Holli makes cheerleading fun, and she encourages us to do our best," said Sue Wall.

The cheerleaders' long and strenuous season is a lot of work. They continue to keep the school spirit moving.

Cardinals Bring Intensity to the Field

The Cardinals steamrolled out of the gates by starting the season with a win against Fairmont/Campbell/Tintah. Despite losing nine seniors from last year's squad, the Cardinals made significant improvements. The team intensity was greater and their execution was better.

Mr Ulmer, defensive coach, reflected, "We really put things together when we needed to. When our backs were against the wall to make playoffs, the guys really pulled together and they made it."

Matt Arnold, Michael Kaiser, and Austin Ulmer made the all-region team. Kirk Glynn, Seth Gans, Eric Fuher, and Keith Bobbe made honorable mention. Eric Fuher was alternate to the Shrine game.

Charging up the field, Seth Gans (40) receives a block from Tadd McFarland on the opening kick-off against Sargent Central.

Under the guidance of new coaches Amy Taylor and Jessica Northrup, the volleyball team showed their strength during a roller coaster season.

"It was a fresh start for us," Heather Brauer gave her view on the new coaches.

Laura Walsh added, "They really helped us learn the basic skills and it was a new start."

After receiving second at districts, the team lost to Napoleon in opening round action of regionals in Ellendale.

Senior Amber Smith was named to the All-district team for the first time and junior Laura Walsh received that honor for the second time.

The team made their goal of playing well during tournaments and proved to fans that teamwork is the most important element of the game.

Young Thunder Team Sends Three Grapplers to State

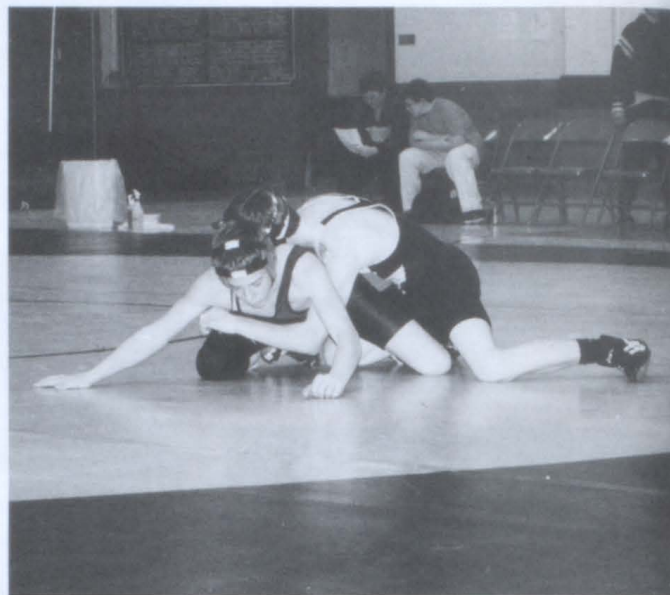

Despite being a young team consisting of one junior, six freshman, three eighth graders and two seventh graders, three wrestlers of the Ellendale/Edgeley Thunder were able to place in the top four at regionals and advance to the state tournament.

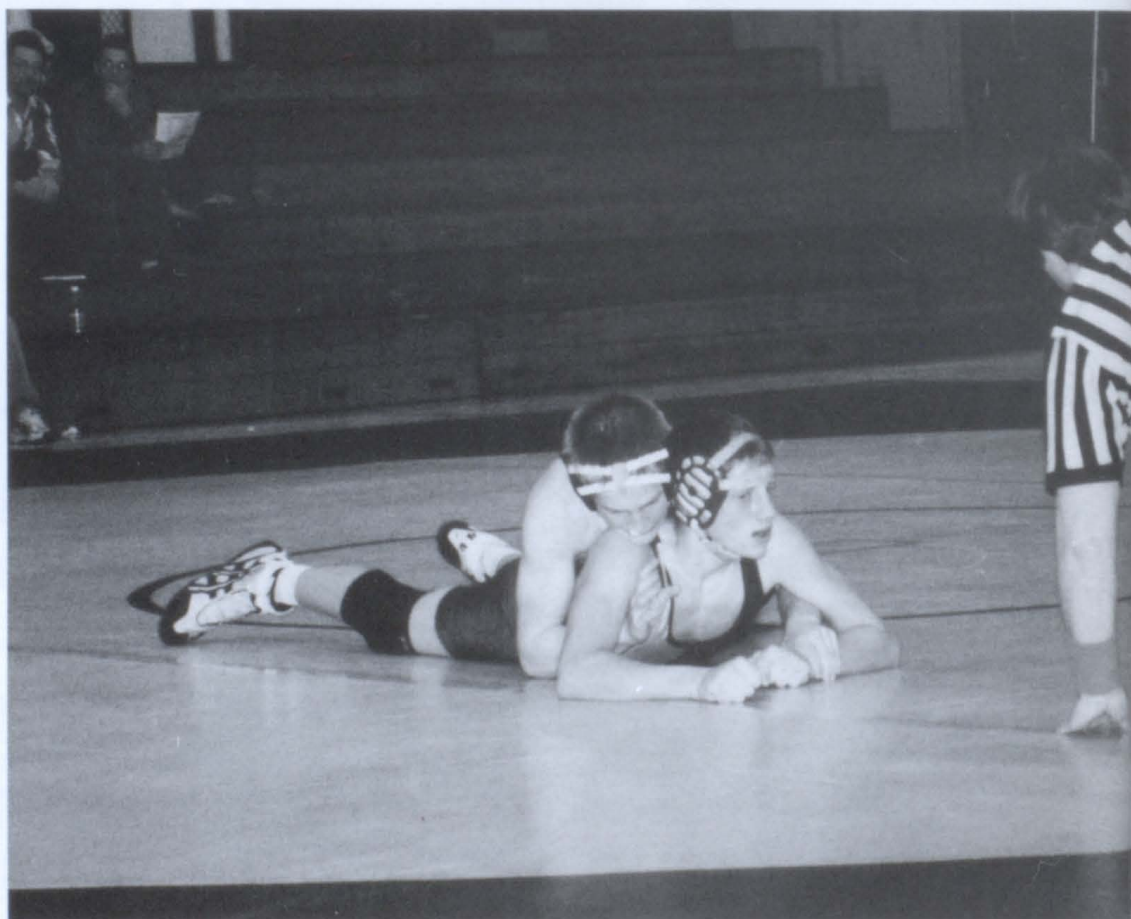

EHS wrestler, Evan Merkel, a freshman, advanced in the 119 lb. weight class. The other two wrestlers to advance were from Edgeley, Dan Moch, a junior at 152 lbs. and Jesse Jangula, a seventh grader at 103 lbs.

Though none of the wrestlers qualified for the placing rounds in the state tournament, they were able to gain experience for the future.

2002-2003:

New Coach New Discoveries

The Cardinals began their season with a new head coach, Craig Johnson, and new assistant coach, Tom Mattheis. Coach Johnson commented, "I felt we had a decent year. The girls worked hard."

Senior captain and all-district player, Anne Kaiser, said, "Next year's team have a lot to look forward to. Younger players stepped up this year so they will have varsity experience for the upcoming year."

The girls excelled in their defensive game and worked well as a team.

Their record indicates their improvement this season as they won twice as many games as the year before.

Senior student manager, Heather Brauer, joked, "The girls got physical on defense. Their style of play reminded me of a bunch of wildcats."

Team Meets Goals, Reclaims Cowbell

The Cardinals met two of the three goals they set for their season, winning the Cowbell and making it to Regionals. Their third goal was to win 16 games, but fell short by one, with a season record of 15-8.

Team Captain, Randy Hahne, said, "We had the skill and most importantly the heart to make it as far as we did. Getting the Cowbell back was a struggle, but the better team did prevail."

The Cardinals lost in first-round Region 5 action by only ten points against the Linton Lions, who advanced to state.

Brett Thielges and Jacob Lematta made the All-District team. Brett also scored one thousand points for his high school career and was named to the Aberdeen American News All-Area Team. Coach Brian Vance recorded his one hundredth victory as head coach for the Cardinals.

Girls' Golf Team Qualifies for State

GOLF

Through hard work, practice and a lot of determination, the girls' golf team was able to qualify for the State Golf Tournament for the second year in a row. At regionals held in Ashley, the girls placed second behind LaMoure by only six team strokes. Individually Amy Hardy placed eighth and Katie Spitzer placed tenth.

The boys also had a very successful season. Dylan Brokaw, Brett Thielges, Tanner Martin and Tony Sorenson were all able to medal at meets throughout the season. The boys also placed first at the Ashley invitational tournament. With only one senior, Brett Thielges, on the team, the future looks bright for the boys.

Five of the six girls on the state qualifying girls' team were seniors leaving the future wide open for next year's golfers.

Students from grades 7 to 12 began investigating during the fall to prepare for the annual science fair held February 13. The winners for the local science fair from first place to fifth were: 7th grade- Sonja Trehus, Bridget Rekow, Kelsey Holm, Joe Peldo, Pete Kronberg, and Jesse Fuher; 8th grade- Valerie Glynn, Brady Fuller, Katie Adrich, Tony Knox, Cody Smith, and Katrina Ketterling, 9th grade: Rebecca Furman, Jennifer Hasz, Maren Sand, Jessica Spitzer, and Whitney Martin, 10th grade- Tara Mertz, Keri Hernandez, Michael Kaiser, Kacey Holm, and Chase Martin. The Grand Champion for the Junior High division was Valerie Glynn and the Senior High division was Tara Mertz. These students then competed in the Southeast Central Science Fair in Jamestown, March 4. Those who received ribbons to compete at the state level on April 2-4 in Fargo were Rebecca Furman, Tara Mertz, Maren Sand, Keri Hernandez, Katie Adrich, Tony Knox, Cody Smith, Katrina Ketterling, and Valerie Glynn. At the state science fair, Maren Sand received second place for the southeast central region with her project Smart Mulch. This gave her the opportunity to attend the International Science Fair in Cleveland, Ohio as an alternate.

National Honor Society

National Honor Society was certainly different this year in that the society consisted of eleven girls. These girls kept themselves active by selling butterbraids and conducting other fundraisers to finance their trip to state convention in April.

At the state convention the members had the opportunity to listen to Matt Glowski. Matt was an individual born without legs who inspired the young ladies to realize that it is okay to be an individual.

The honor society was also very active with service projects. To remember those who lost their lives, they placed paper flags on every locker in the school on September 11th. Also, they raised about $1,900 for the Dollars For Scholars scholarship program during the spring phone-a-thon.

Working

The EHS spy-cam captured students exploring different levels of government. Student Council represented the local level, Girls' State represented the state level, and the Close-Up group experienced the national level in Washington, D.C. in March.

Close-up students met many people from other states and from other towns across North Dakota. Friendships were formed and memories were engraved into the minds of the students during their week-long stay.

On the local level, the Student Council participated in the Adopt-a-Highway project and the American Cancer Society Daffodil Days for the second year.

Junior girls Kellie Aldrich, Laura Walsh, and Kate Martin experienced government on the state level by attending Girls' State in June.

The Junior and Senior classes also attended a day at the state legislature. Early on the morning of January 28, they boarded the busses for Bismarck accompanied by social studies teachers Mr. Hack and Mr. Ulmer. The students took part in a session with the House of Representatives or Senate.

S.A.D.D.

Throughout the year, C.A.S.P.E.R. has been involved in many activities, one of which was participating in Red Ribbon Week the last week in October. Casper organized a mock accident, posted "How to Say No" signs on lockers, handed out Red Ribbons, organized a skit for the Elementary, and finalized the week with a Beach Party dance. They also attended the state convention in Minot, ND and three juniors attended the National S.A.D.D. conference at Philadelphia in summer. The year was filled with exciting activities to promote their chapter's meaning.

Discovering Choices

Disciples of Christ's Kingdom (D.O.C.K.) and Fellowship of Christian Athletes (FCA) are two active groups dedicated to the student body. DOCK organizes outreaches, weekly meetings, fundraisers, babysitting for the Elementary concerts, tournaments, and their annual

End-of-Year Bash.

FCA was newly formed this year. Athletes met periodically for fellowship and social activities.

Members of both groups participated in the National Day of Prayer.

Take II Drama Club Rides Again

The members of the Take II Drama Club had a great year. At regional competition, Cyndal Orwig received an honorable mention acting award as one of the highlights of the year. The club was also able to put on their annual dinner theatre for the community.

This year's performance, directed by Myron Masset, was titled, "The Headless Horseman Rides Again." The play was about a school teacher who was trying to protect his students from a haunted ghost. However, in the end, it turned out that the schoolhouse really wasn't haunted. What everyone thought was a ghost turned out to be Mr. Van Bloom in a costume.

Cassy Barry and Anna Selexneva work together on a project in General Business class.

Exchange students shy but unafraid INVESTIGATIONS INTO AMERICAN LIFESTYLES Conny and Anna's experiences shape personalities

ALERT: The top-secret files of Conny Denk and Anna Selexneva are now being given to the public!

Foreign exchange student Conny traveled from the small town of Linden, Germany to spend the school year with her host family, Darren and Lisa Moser. Anna, exchange student from Sterletamak, Russia came in early January to spend a half year with her host family Ron and Stella Martin.

In interviews conducted by the Journalism class, both Conny and Anna chuckled as they stated, "I came to America to learn the language."

Conny had taken six years of English in Germany but discovered the language to be very different in America. Anna had taken five and a half years of English while in Russia, but the classes were held only two times a week; therefore, when arriving in America, she found it much more difficult than she had anticipated.

Both Conny and Anna liked our school system because the willing help of the teachers made the subjects easier to learn.

The Russian school system where Anna lives is much different than America. Every day she attends classes with one of five permanent groups of twenty students

Throughout her high school career, she learns and works with these same twenty students.

In Germany, the school system is separated into four schools. Conny attended the secondary school, but she would like to attend college in the United States. In fact, Conny exclaimed, "I hope to spend my future here."

Conny and Anna's foreign discoveries could have the power to change their lives forever!

EHS Senior Class of 2003

by Sally Sand, Brett Thielges, Randy Hahne

Eric's pride was in his truck, but when it comes to teeth, he has no luck.

Keith, who is clearly a Bobbe, hit a pole because he couldn't see.

Matt always treasured his gun and when night fell he knew how to have fun.

Angela knew where she wanted to be and when it came to her real friends, they call her "AT" or "ET".

Amber always saw the light; when we all thought wrong, she could quickly tell us right.

Heather can ramble on forever and ever, and surprisingly has kept her Mustang together.

Sally loves her dog, horses, and chickens with all her heart, but she never knew if it's the end or if she should start.

Tiffany F. liked to do things really fast, but when it came to guys, she could never last.

Bobbi had her ups and downs, but the smiles could always outlast the frowns.

Nate always held his ground, and when you least expected it, he would be around.

Montana was always in his car, who knows where it's been and how far.

Beaver also enjoyed to hunt, and if you needed an opinion, he could really be blunt.

Corinne was always here, there, or everywhere, and when it came down to it, she'd take most dares.

Amy was always the quietest one, but with a little encouragement she gave in and had fun.

Brianna was known to have two jobs; in her spare time, she had to watch Spongebob.

Tiffany S. could play the piano and sing, and we can't believe the size of that diamond ring.

There's not a sport she could not do, and Anne even got valedictorian, too.

Tanya worked at the nursing home, and when it came to debate, she was full-blown.

Brett was known as the basketball star, but when it comes to stretching, he can't bend too far.

Over the years, Jason's hair grew, and at the junior high track meet, he lost his shoe.

Ashley likes to smile and smile; it spreads one and a quarter mile.

Randy dresses very nice, and he gives some really good advice.

Nichole digs that volleyball, and Chuck is there through it all.

Tyler can be found driving in his car; he'll even drive backwards if his mileage goes too far.

A family of twenty-five who've laughed and cried will leave this place to begin their lives.

Thanks for the memories Mr. Gall and Mr. Masset.
